HOLLYWOOD MOMS

Bethenny's Beatboxer

» Bryn Hoppy marches to the beat of her own drum.

Bethenny Frankel's 8-year-old daughter (with estranged ex Jason Hoppy) has "her own style," the Real Housewives of New York City star, 48, tells Us. "It's not my style," she says. "It's not her friends' style." Not only is the little one's closet a mix of "Coachella meets Williamsburg," a.k.a. Brooklyn's hippest neighborhood, but her interests are unique as well. In fact, she recently "started beatboxing," Bethenny says.

Do you see yourself in Bryn?

BF She's very sassy. This morning I said, "You're very funny," and she said, "I know. It's a gift from you."

What else are you hoping to pass on to her?

BF I tell her every day, "You want to be a nice girl." What you put into [kids], you get out of them, so I treat her with a lot of love, a lot of confidence, a lot of inspiration.

How do you two spend time together?

BF Ice-skating, sledding, clamming in the summer — a lot of sports.

Did you tell her about [ex-boy-friend] Dennis Shields' passing?

BF: My daughter's an old soul, and she's very adult. I'm honest with her. I think it's good for kids to experience... things when they're a child — not too difficult, but sort of personality-evolving, spiritually evolving things.

"[Bryn] understands who I am as a person," Bethenny tells Us.

"I want to empower my daughters to think work is good and necessary," Drew has said.

IT'S IN THEIR GENES!

» Will Drew Barrymore's daughters follow in her famous family's thespian footsteps? The Santa Clarita Diet star, 44, tells Us that her girls are both "very theatrical" and "definitely have a Barrymore gene strong within" them. Not only do Olive, 6, and Frankie, 4 (dad is Drew's ex-husband Will Kopelman), "love coming to set" with their mom, but the actress says "they're funny, they're cool and they're adventurous." Although letting her daughters pursue a career in the entertainment industry used to scare the former child star — she famously struggled with drugs at a very young age — she's warming up to the idea. "If they were to go into acting at an appropriate age, I'd be the most supportive, fiercest lion for it," Drew says. As long as the little ones have had a "normal childhood," she'll tell them, "'If you want to go into theater in high school and do that for a living, I'm behind you.'" If Hollywood continues to evolve the way it has been, Drew will have even more reason to support her girls' carrying on the Barrymore acting legacy. "I think women are doing incredibly in comedy right now," says Drew. "This is a very cool, rich time for women." She points out, in particular, her Santa Clarita character, Sheila, whom she describes as "empowered and funny," someone BFF Cameron Diaz tells Drew "is the most me she's ever seen me."

Mother-Son Meditation

Phaedra Parks' little guy has her in a trance. The Real Housewives of Atlanta alum, 45, does subliminal hypnosis with Dylan, 5, before bedtime, she tells Us, and as a result, she wakes up "piping hot" and "full of energy. Who knew a child would get into that?" Older brother, Ayden, 8, has more classic interests. He "loves french fries," Phaedra says. Us too!

Proud Aunt Alert!

Jessica Simpson's 1-month-old, Birdie (with hubby Eric Johnson), "is adorable and amazing," according to her aunt Ashlee. And Ash's kids, Bronx, 10, and Jagger, 3, are big fans of their cousin too. "They love her," she tells Us.

Love Lives

The key to J.Rod's relationship? "We support each other," J.Lo tells Us.

JENNIFER & ALEX

PDA All Day

➔ Ever since Alex Rodriguez proposed in March, Jennifer Lopez has been as starry-eyed as a Disney princess. "She floats into the room," her World of Dance co-judge Ne-Yo tells Us. "There are butterflies and birds and stuff." And now the R&B singer wants the superstar, 49, and the former New York Yankee, 43 (who've been together for over two years), to get a room. "They're like teenagers," jokes Ne-Yo. "It's ridiculous. We get it."

KACEY & RUSTON

Their Golden Hour

➔ Love isn't such a wild thing for Kacey Musgraves and Ruston Kelly. In fact, it's pretty stable. "He, hands down, is one of the most supportive people I've ever met in my life," the Grammy winner gushes to Us, noting that their similar qualities help them work well as a pair. The singer-songwriters, both 30, credit communication as key. "At the end of the day," says Kacey, "we really understand each other."

ELVIS & ALEX

Broadcasting Their Love

➔ Elvis Duran and fiancé Alex Carr are "extremely low-key," the Elvis Duran and the Morning Show host tells Us. "We would prefer to stay home, watch TV, wear our stretchy shorts and T-shirts and pet the dog." In fact, for the radio personality, 54, and the zookeeper, 38 — who got engaged in July 2018 after nearly eight years together — that laid-back outlook even extends to their wedding. "We're wishing we weren't getting married in a ceremony," the author of Where Do I Begin? (out this fall) jokes about their upcoming September nuptials. "We could just do it at City Hall." But no matter how it plays out, he can't wait to make their union official "to just prove to the world that this is my guy [and] I'm his guy."

● APRIL 29, 2019

Wendy Williams seems to be doin' great since serving husband Kevin Hunter with divorce papers in the wake of his alleged mistress, Sharina Hudson, giving birth to a child. Just days later, during an April 15 episode of The Wendy Williams Show (where Kevin is a producer), the TV host, 54, "was in an amazing mood," a source tells Us. "She had a renewed pep in her step. She looked really relieved and was acting like her old self." Those around her can't believe her complete 180. "This could be the best thing that's ever happened to her personally and professionally," notes the source. "She finally woke up."

WENDY WILLIAMS

MOVING ON

ON THE MEND After suffering from multiple health and sobriety issues over the past couple of months, Wendy revealed on the same episode that she was finally moving out of the sober house where she'd been living. Now her focus is on staying healthy for her son, Kevin Jr., 19, "a huge priority in her life," says the source. "[He's] a reason to remain sober." And while Wendy's future is unclear, adds the source, "her attitude is good."

The talk-show host is "reconnecting with family now that she's cut off Kevin," a source tells Us.

In divorce documents, Wendy cited irreconcilable differences in her 20-plus-year marriage.

Jenna's told Us that wedding planning was "such a fun chapter of our lives."

MEET MR. & MRS. CHMERKOVSKIY!

Val Chmerkovskiy and Jenna Johnson are officially husband and wife! The Dancing With the Stars pros tied the knot at the LA oceanfront hotel Terranea Resort on April 13 in front of several celeb guests, including Candace Cameron Bure and Nikki Bella. During the romantic ceremony, the pair — who got engaged in June 2018 — couldn't hold back their emotion. "I promise to fulfill my duties as your wife," Jenna, 25, tearfully said in her vows, according to a source, while Val poked fun at her love for turtlenecks. (Her gown even featured one!) After sealing their union with a kiss, the newlyweds celebrated with a dance to "La Vie en Rose" by Edith Piaf. Throughout the night, adds the source, Val, 33, looked "elated and overjoyed."

Angelina and Brad have joint physical and legal custody of their kids.

ANGIE & BRAD

Officially Single!

» They called it quits in 2016 after more than a decade together, but now Angelina Jolie and Brad Pitt are legally split: The former spouses and current coparents filed a bifurcated judgment on April 12, which officially made them exes. ON GOOD TERMS Though Angelina and Brad still have much negotiating to do for their divorce settlement, if history is any indication, it should go smoothly. The actress, 43, and actor, 55, came to a custody agreement in November 2018 over their six kids, and since then, "they've been on better terms," a source tells Us. Obviously, "there are going to be disagreements between them," but all signs point to a mutually respectful split.

JENELLE'S HEALTH SCARE

The Teen Mom 2 star was hospitalized on April 12

Jenelle Evans is recovering after having her left ovary removed and her tubes tied on April 12.

"I decided to get this procedure because I had a really bad problem with irregular bleeding," the star tells Us. "I also get very sick when I'm pregnant, and I knew I was happy with the number of kids I have now." (She shares Jace, 9, and Kaiser, 4, with ex Nathan Griffith, and is also mom of Ensley, 2, with David Eason, who was by her side during the procedure.) Now the 27-year-old is "healing properly," her rep tells Us.

Undergoing the procedure "was the best decision for my health," Jenelle tells Us.

No helicopter mom here!
Easygoing Kate gives sons
Ryder and Bing plenty of space.

"Laid back," Kate captioned this Feb. 21 snap of baby Rani. Enough said!

We'll have what she's having! As she celebrates a milestone birthday, the ageless star is busier than ever — and in the best shape of her life

KATE HUDSON

40, Fit & Fabulous!

It's been only six months since Kate Hudson gave birth to baby No. 3 — not that you can tell by looking at her. In an April 4 Instagram video announcing the launch of her new eco-friendly clothing label, Happy x Nature, the blonde beauty appeared toned, taut and, most important, happy as she modeled flowy dresses, floral prints and other breezy boho-chic styles, with no baby weight to be seen.

The Hollywood A-lister, who hit the big 4-0 on April 19, is having the time of her life and is busier than ever. She's a successful businesswoman with two fashion lines (activewear brand Fabletics is the other), recently became the new ambassador for Weight Watchers, and even has a new movie in the works, Blood Money, costarring Zac Efron.

Kate also has her hands full with her "little rosebud," Rani Rose, her baby with musician Danny Fujikawa, 32, whom she's been seeing for two years. "Kate's in a great place in her life and is very comfortable entering a new decade," a source tells Us. Seeing pals like Gwyneth Paltrow, Reese Witherspoon and Jennifer Garner flourishing after 40, "Kate's happy to be joining the club. She doesn't worry about wrinkles or gray hair. She feels like everything gets better with age."

► SUPPORT SYSTEM

All this multitasking isn't easy, but Kate, who's also mom to sons Bingham, 7, with ex-fiancé Matt

Bellamy, and Ryder, 15, from her seven-year marriage to Chris Robinson, wouldn't have it any other way. "Having a newborn and going through the baby stage has definitely been a shock after such a long break," the source says. "But Kate's been loving this experience and getting to share it with Danny. He's extremely hands-on, so it's been a dream."

The star also leans on her brother, Splitting Up Together actor Oliver Hudson, 42, whose Brentwood, Calif., home is a short drive from her Pacific Palisades mansion. "She doesn't have all three kids at once because the boys spend a ton of time there," explains the source, adding that Kate's also made it easier on herself by staying on good terms with her exes. "She sees Matt a lot with Bing, who also has separate time with his dad. Chris lives in Northern California but comes down to visit, because Kate supports Ryder having a positive relationship with his dad." Though, like any other mom, she misses her kids when she's not with them: "She has mom guilt sometimes, just like anyone else. But they're happy and surrounded by love and a big family. That's what's most important to her."

▶ CAN-DO ATTITUDE

With her expanding entrepreneurial ventures, Kate, who launched Fabletics in 2013, is busier than ever. "She works on Fabletics quite a bit and is always coming up with new ideas and projects," says the source, pointing out that her creativity and business smarts have paid off handsomely, with the company raking in more than $300 million annually and expanding from its online origins into brick-and-mortar stores.

"Risk was never something that scared me," Kate's said. "You don't get into a business to not have happy customers. You get into business to make sure everyone's happy."

Her positive energy has certainly knocked Danny off his feet. "She does things that 99.9 percent of other people can't do because they don't have the willpower or the strength or the wherewithal, and she's done it tenfold," he's gushed. "Most importantly, she's an amazing person in her heart and soul. That's really where it counts."

▶ BODY AND SOUL

While that's undoubtedly true, having an amazing body doesn't hurt, either. The famously fit Kate shed her baby weight in record time — because she worked her butt off. "As she's gotten older, she's definitely noticed differences in her body and has had to work very hard to lose the baby weight," the source reveals to Us. "She knows what she has to do and sticks to the plan [see box, left]. She works out five or six days a week with a trainer who comes to her house and does Pilates, yoga, ab work, pushups and circuit training. She also goes hiking in the mountains with her dogs and loves that she can bring Rani along in a carrier."

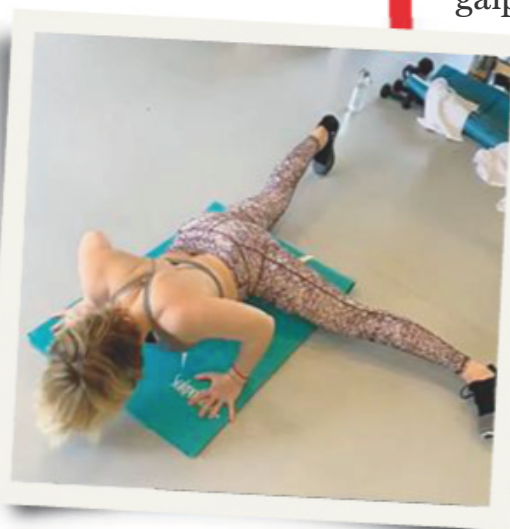

Kate's enviable work-life balance — which she's figured out over the years by "trial and error," she says — also includes penciling in romantic date nights with Danny and frequent get-togethers with galpals. "Even if they just hang out at someone's house for a glass of wine, she always has lots of laughs and a really fun time," says the source. "Kate can see the big picture. She doesn't get worked up about things and knows that whatever difficulties come up will eventually pass. She's too busy enjoying every day." US

How She Got Her Body Back

» It wasn't easy! Kate, who packed on 70 pounds during her first two pregnancies, blasted the baby fat this time around with a grueling daily regimen that includes Pilates and yoga, weight training and cardio sessions. "She's very active but has had to stay disciplined," a source tells Us. Fortunately, that's no problem for Kate, who shared an Instagram video on April 5 showing herself powering through some insanely difficult split pushups. "The weight hasn't just fallen off like before," says the source. "It's taken a while, but she's very happy with the results."

"I have such a cool, big family," Kate's said. What an understatement!

DANNY FUJIKAWA

Kate's said she's always dreamed of having at least four kids.

HER THOROUGHLY MODERN FAMILY

» With three children by three different men, Kate is a positive role model for postsplit parenting. Not only is she friendly with exes Chris Robinson and Matt Bellamy, they're also friends with each other — and her beau Danny Fujikawa! The gang is also close with Kate's brother, Oliver, and his actress wife, Erinn Bartlett (parents to Wilder, 11, Bodhi, 11, and daughter Rio Lara, 5). Add in Kate's mom, Goldie Hawn, her longtime partner Kurt Russell (whom Kate calls "Pa") and their actor son, Wyatt, 32, and there's no shortage of familial support for Kate and her kiddos. But it's Goldie who's had the biggest impact. "When I see my friends talking s**t about their ex-spouses in front of their kids, I get so upset," Kate's said. "No matter what, I never heard a bad word about my [birth] father [from my mom]."

MATT BELLAMY

Lori was spotted out in LA on April 10, the same day prosecutors added money laundering to her list of charges.

LORI LOUGHLIN

THE BIGGEST OF

The Full House star pleaded not guilty to conspiracy charges in the college-admissions scam. Now she faces more than 20 years in prison

Since her arrest in March for her alleged involvement in a national college-admissions cheating scam, Lori Loughlin's behavior has been perplexing to say the least. The day before her first court appearance on April 3, the actress cheerily greeted fans outside her Boston hotel, happily signing autographs and even posing for selfies. A few days later, she was photographed in Beverly Hills with her daughter Bella, laughing like she didn't have a care in the world. When new charges of money laundering were lobbed at her and husband Mossimo Giannulli, it finally seemed like things might sink in, that she might accept responsibility and take a plea deal. That didn't happen. Instead, she and Mossimo defiantly pleaded not guilty to all the charges against them.

By all accounts, the star hasn't seemed to grasp the magnitude of the situation she's gotten herself into. "Lori didn't know it would become this serious," a source tells Us. "She doesn't fully understand the extent of her alleged crimes."

But reality is setting in now that Lori, 54, and her fashion designer husband, 55, are facing up to 40 years each for mail fraud and money laundering — and she's finally realizing that she may have made the biggest mistake of her life.

► FROM BAD TO WORSE

Lori and Mossimo's legal troubles escalated quickly. In March, they were charged with fraud over allegations they'd paid $500,000 in bribes to get their daughters, Bella, 20, and Olivia Jade, 19, into the University of Southern California by having them designated as recruits for the crew team, even though the girls had never participated in the sport. But unlike fellow actress Felicity Huffman (see next page), who was also among the 50 people charged in the nationwide case, Lori and Mossimo refused to take a plea deal. According to an Us source, Lori decided she'd rather take her chances at trial than agree to a minimum of two years in prison. "Lori's in denial based on her legal team's confidence," a source told Us at the time. "Her attorney told her not to take the deal."

That plan seems to have backfired, big-time. Prosecutors quickly struck back by adding a money-laundering charge, and now Lori and Mossimo have likely missed their chance to get in on an early plea deal — losing even more favor with the courts and in the public eye. "They

A source tells Us, "It's no secret Olivia was never very passionate about school."

OLIVIA STILL WON'T TALK TO HER MOM

» Lori was once incredibly close with both of her daughters, Isabella and Olivia (below). And although she was spotted on a shopping date with daughter Bella on April 5, things are chillier with YouTube star Olivia, whose career has been derailed due to the scandal and who, according to a source, has been staying with boyfriend Jackson Guthy at his Malibu pad: "She's still very upset with her parents." Adds an insider, "Olivia is trying to live her life normally again."

MISTAKE HER LIFE

had no choice but to plead not guilty,” explains legal coach and crisis manager Wendy Feldman. “They missed the opportunity for a plea bargain during the first round, and now there might not be a deal available for them to take.”

LA-based lawyer Neama Rahmani believes Lori has sealed her fate. “I don’t know what she was thinking. The feds have an overwhelming amount of evidence against her, including emails, phone calls and financial documents,” he says. Lori and Mossimo, who have a reported combined net worth of $100 million, could be on the hook for at least $250,000 in fines, and “could spend years, if not decades, behind bars,” says Rahmani. “No jury will acquit them.”

HER WORLD IS FALLING APART

For someone who makes a living in the entertainment business, the court of public opinion can be just as powerful. Since the scandal broke, Lori’s been fired from her hit Hallmark Channel show, When Calls the Heart, and execs at Netflix’s Fuller House say she won’t return in her guest-starring role in 2019. And while her co-stars on that show, Andrea Barber, Candace Cameron Bure and Jodie Sweetin, Lori and Mossimo (below in 1998) eloped two days before Thanksgiving in 1997.

IS MOSSIMO TO BLAME?

➔ Amid reports of tension between Lori and her husband of 21 years, a source tells Us that the actress’ friends are pointing fingers at Mossimo, saying he was likely the brains behind the alleged bribery operation. “Everyone feels bad for her,” says the source, “and they think the situation was something concocted by her husband.” Mossimo has never been a favorite among Lori’s pals, adds the insider: “Her friends don’t like him.” (In an interesting twist, shortly before the scandal broke, daughter Olivia revealed in an interview that her father had lied about attending USC himself, and instead used tuition money from his parents to start his famous fashion line.)

expressed support for Lori at the Nickelodeon Kids' Choice Awards in late March, saying "family sticks together through the hard times," other celebs, including Lena Dunham and Olivia Munn, have publicly chastised her. (Her longtime friend and costar Bob Saget was accused of also lobbying criticism her way, after tweeting — then deleting — a message about "liars.") Saturday Night Live even got in on the action, casting Kate McKinnon — in Lori's now-iconic brown suit — to play the disgraced star in an April 13 prison sketch. "Her image will take years to repair," says

CRISIS MANAGER WENDY FELDMAN

Feldman. "And I'm not sure anyone will even care by that time. If she can make a comeback, it's going to take a lot of humility and hard work."

But first, there's the relationship with her daughters to worry about. While things seem OK with Bella on the surface, a source tells Us that she and Olivia are both "hurt and resentful" over the events that have transpired. YouTube star and Instagram influencer Olivia has lost endorsement deals with Sephora and Tresemmé, and feels traumatized by her parents' betrayal. "She's been spending a lot of time with her boyfriend," a source tells Us. "She's really concerned about how her future career will be affected by all of this."

If there's any hope for damage control, Lori needs to get to work, stat. "She's in deep," says Feldman. "She and her husband need to come up with a strategy that involves things like therapy and community service. If she's smart," adds Feldman, "she'll start right now." US

FELICITY'S COMEBACK

The actress acknowledged her guilt — and it helped her image

» While Lori and Felicity were initially linked as the two big-name stars in the college-admissions scandal, they've gone down very different roads in the weeks since both were first implicated. The former Desperate Housewives star, 56, is alleged to have forked over $15,000 to rig a college-admissions test for her 18-year-old daughter Sofia (dad is actor William H. Macy; they also share 17-year-old daughter Georgia). But Felicity was quick to admit her guilt and accept a plea deal. She released a statement on April 8 that said in part, "With deep regret and shame, I accept full responsibility for my actions and will accept the consequences that stem from those actions." According to attorney Neema Rahmani, it was a wise move. "It was extremely smart of her to apologize publicly." Prosecutors are asking that she serve four months in prison, but Rahmani isn't sure she'll see the inside of a cell. "She could serve time at a halfway house or in home confinement, or get probation," he explains. "Demonstrating that she understands her conduct was wrong and taking the plea gave her the best possible outcome."

"She gave the perfect statement," says Felicity's Desperate Housewives costar Dana Delany.

Tequila, Mexican Cream and Chipotle Shrimp

INGREDIENTS

- 1 lb large shrimp in shell, thawed, peeled and deveined (about 25 shrimp)
- ½ tsp kosher or sea salt (or more to taste)
- ¼ tsp freshly ground black pepper
- 2 tbsp unsalted butter
- 1 garlic clove, finely minced
- ¼ cup tequila reposado
- ¼ cup Mexican-style cream, such as Rio Grande
- 1 tsp chipotles in adobo sauce (or more to taste)
- 1 bunch chives, chopped

INSTRUCTIONS

- 1 Place peeled, deveined shrimp in a bowl and sprinkle with salt and pepper. In a large, heavy sauté pan set over medium-high heat, let the butter melt. Once it starts to sizzle, add the garlic. Stir and cook for 10 to 15 seconds, until the garlic becomes fragrant. Incorporate the shrimp, making sure the pan isn't overcrowded, and let them brown on one side and then the other, about 1 to 2 minutes per side. Don't let them overcook: They should brown on the outside but be barely cooked through.
- 2 Add the tequila, and slightly tilt the pan over the flame to ignite it. Let it cook until the flames disappear. Stir in the cream and the chipotles and turn off the heat. Serve immediately sprinkled with the chives on top.

This recipe from Married to Medicine star Quad Webb's upcoming cookbook, Cooking With Miss Quad, combines hearty, flavorful chorizo with sharp cheese. It's this combo, Quad says, that makes the dish "so delish" — and perfect for Cinco de Mayo. Fun fact: Cinco de Mayo is more popular in the U.S. than in Mexico! (Mexico's most important holiday is its Independence Day, Sept. 16.)

Chorizo Queso Dip

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup shredded sharp cheddar
- 1 cup shredded Monterey Jack or Oaxaca cheese
- 1 8-oz package cream cheese, softened
- 2 tbsp olive oil
- 1 large yellow onion, diced
- 3 garlic cloves, minced
- 1 lb chorizo sausage, casings removed
- 2 large jalapeño peppers, sliced fresh or pickled
- ¼ cup chopped fresh cilantro (optional)
- Tortilla chips, for serving

INSTRUCTIONS

- 1 Preheat the oven to 375°. Spray a small casserole dish or oven-safe pan with nonstick cooking spray. In a small bowl, combine the cheddar, Monterey Jack and cream cheese. Scrape into dish and bake for 20 minutes.
- 2 Heat the oil in a large skillet over medium-high heat, then sauté the onion and garlic until the onion becomes translucent, 3 to 5 minutes. Add the chorizo to the pan and break it up with a spatula while sautéing until the sausage has browned, 5 to 7 minutes.

- 3 Using a slotted spoon, transfer the chorizo mixture to paper towels to drain. When ready, remove the cheese mixture from the oven and top with the chorizo mixture, jalapeños and cilantro, if using. Serve immediately with tortilla chips.

This protein-packed recipe hails from actress Tracy Pollan's new book, Mostly Plants: 101 Delicious Flexitarian Recipes From the Pollan Family, which she wrote with her mom and sisters. "These quesadillas hit all the right marks: creamy white beans, gooey cheese and earthy kale, which makes for a healthy take on a traditional Mexican favorite," she tells Us.

White Bean and Kale Quesadillas

INGREDIENTS

- 2 tbsp extra-virgin olive oil
- 3 tbsp minced shallots
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 15-oz cans cannellini beans, drained and rinsed (or 3 cups cooked cannellini beans)
- 1 tbsp finely chopped fresh flat-leaf parsley
- Kosher salt
- Freshly ground black pepper
- 5 cups roughly chopped lacinato (dinosaur or Tuscan) kale, stems removed
- 2–3 tbsp unsalted butter
- 10 8- to 10-inch multi-grain or whole-wheat flour tortillas
- 2½ cups shredded Monterey Jack cheese
- ¾ cup Roasted Tomatillo Salsa (right) or your favorite store-bought salsa

INSTRUCTIONS

- 1 Preheat the oven to 250°.
- 2 In a medium nonstick skillet over medium heat, heat 1 tbsp of the olive oil until shimmering. Add the shallots and cook until translucent, 2 to 3 minutes. Add the garlic and cook for an additional minute. Add the beans, parsley, ¼ tsp salt and ⅛ tsp pepper and mix well. Cook until the beans are hot, about 3 minutes. Transfer to a bowl and mash the beans with a fork, leaving a few chunks for texture.
- 3 Wipe out the skillet, return it to medium heat and add the remaining 1 tbsp olive oil. Once the oil is shimmering, add the kale and sauté until wilted, about 4 minutes. Season with salt and pepper. Set aside.
- 4 In a grill pan or a separate large skillet over medium heat, melt a small pat of the butter. Place a tortilla in the pan and sprinkle 3 tbsp cheese over the entire tortilla. Cook until cheese has melted, then distribute about 2 tbsp of the white-bean mixture and some of the kale over just half of the tortilla. With a spatula, fold the tortilla in half to sandwich the filling. Sprinkle the folded tortilla with a pinch of salt. Cook until the bottom is golden brown, about 1 minute, then flip, sprinkle with an additional pinch of salt and cook until golden brown on the second side, about 1 minute more. Transfer to a rimmed baking sheet and place in the oven to keep warm. Repeat with the remaining tortillas, cheese, filling and kale.

- 5 Remove the quesadillas from the oven, cut each in half and serve with salsa.

Roasted Tomatillo Salsa

INGREDIENTS

- 1 lb tomatillos, husked, thoroughly rinsed and dried
- 1 jalapeño pepper (2 for spicy salsa), stemmed
- ¼ cup fresh cilantro, thick stems removed
- ¼ cup finely chopped white onion
- Sea salt
- Freshly ground black pepper

INSTRUCTIONS

- 1 Set a rack in the highest part of the oven (about 4 inches from the broiler) and preheat the oven to broil. Line a rimmed baking sheet with aluminum foil.
- 2 Place the tomatillos and jalapeño on the prepared baking sheet. Broil for 5 to 8 minutes until the tops are charred. Flip the tomatillos and jalapeño and broil until their skins have black splotches and are blistered, 5 to 8 minutes more. Remove from the oven and let cool slightly.
- 3 In a food processor or blender, combine the tomatillos and jalapeño, any accumulated juices from the baking sheet, the cilantro and ¼ cup water. Pulse until pureed.
- 4 Transfer to a bowl and add the onion, ½ tsp salt and ⅛ tsp black pepper. Let cool to room temperature and transfer to an airtight container. Store in the refrigerator for up to 1 week or in the freezer for up to 1 month.

- 2 Use a brush to coat the pieces of corn with oil, or get them greasy with your hands. Season with the salt and lay as many pieces as will fit comfortably in the skillet. Cook, turning every 2 minutes, until some bits are blackened and the corn is cooked, about 8 minutes total.

- 3 Working quickly, brush each piece with a thin layer of mayonnaise, then roll the corn in the cheese mixture and sprinkle with cayenne to taste. Put all the cheesy corn on a platter, garnish with the cilantro and serve with lime wedges for squeezing.

14 IN A HAZE

No wonder this cool color from the brand China Glaze is called Lavenduh! — it's a no-brainer. ($4, ulta.com)

US MUSTS

"Harvey's lovely and sweet," says Gavin, but he's not what Sabrina needs right now.

Under Nick's Spell

Chilling Adventures of Sabrina star Gavin Leatherwood sheds light on season 2's magical love triangle

Nick's experience makes Sabrina feel more comfortable about exploring a physical relationship.

No one wants to be the guy to break up an iconic couple like Sabrina [Kiernan Shipka] and Harvey [Ross Lynch]. Well, no one but Nicholas Scratch. In part 2 of Netflix's Chilling Adventures of Sabrina, Nick can't resist his connection with the half-witch. "It's unlike any relationship either of them has had; it's built on the foundation that they need each other," says Gavin Leatherwood, who portrays the handsome warlock. "I joke that Nick's who I thought I was in seventh and eighth grade," the 24-year-old says, "trying to hide behind a bad-boy thing when truly, I'm a softie." Gavin shares more of his magic with Us.

How do you feel about the triangle?

GL Honestly, I'm a Harvey-and-Sabrina shipper! There's something really beautiful about the high school sweethearts — there are just so many obstacles for them.

Do you think Nick is a better fit for Sabrina?

GL He really could lend himself nicely to her, and they could have a beautiful life together. He's championing Sabrina and wants her to become the ultimate badass she's meant to be.

Nick was pretty promiscuous in part 1. Do you think his feelings for her are more lust than love?

GL He was already enthralled that she was Edward Spellman's daughter. Then he saw her sing in part 1, and it was like how the Grinch's heart grows a little bit bigger. There was all this lust within Nick's heart, and it kind of spiked, but there was something else too. Chatting with her and getting to learn more about her, he continued to really fall for her.

How important is it to you that this show features such strong female characters?

GL I think women are magical, wonderful creatures. I've got such respect for the women in my life, and I was always just taught to love, cherish and respect the women around me. To be around these really strong female actors [including co-stars Lucy Davis, Miranda Otto and Michelle Gomez], it's just a beautiful blessing.

Out of This World Romance

Who knew extraterrestrials had as much love-life drama as humans? In the CW's Roswell, New Mexico (Tuesdays, 9 P.M.), it didn't take long for Michael Vlamis' bisexual cowboy alien, Michael, to hook up with both his high school crush Alex Manes (Tyler Blackburn) and his bickering buddy Maria DeLuca (Heather Hemmens).

BREATH OF FRESH AIR "I think Michael's had bottled-up feelings for Alex for so long that it's kind of nice to have feelings for someone new," says Michael, 29, of his romance with DeLuca. "When he looks at her, he doesn't see years of hiding his sexuality. It's almost like a fresh start." That said, Michael wouldn't count Alex out just yet, even though Alex just found out Michael's been hiding his real identity. "With the level their love is on, nothing can come between them," he says. "That love is so strong — and love is what wins at the end of the day." Hear, hear!

"I could see an outstanding relationship" between Maria and Michael, says the actor.

Breakthrough

Is it wrong to have just lukewarm feelings about the wholesome tale of a teen boy who miraculously survives an accident? John (Marcel Ruiz) and his friends are horsing around on a frozen lake in Missouri when disaster strikes. Despite a noble rescue, doctors declare him dead. Then his devoted mother, Joyce (Chrissy Metz, nicely cast), prays over his lifeless body and hears a pulse!

(Although a true story, the moment is overly dramatized.) Joyce turns to a higher power again and again to help her son — and though her faith surely helped Joyce in real life, these scenes turn the nearly two-hour film into a repetitive, mawkish cryfest. Strong performances from Metz, Topher Grace and Dennis Haysbert carry it through.

Good news, parents: You don't have to travel to the ends of the earth to find a fascinating and sweet kid-friendly movie option! A DisneyNature documentary crew (literally) follows the adventures of 5-year-old penguin Steve, who, over the course of a year in Antarctica, builds a nest with rocks, finds a mate and learns how to tend to his new family. Ed Helms narrates Steve's journey, complete with amusing penguin dialogue and sound effects. A few '80s hits fill in the soundtrack, and when things can't get any cuter, the babies are born!

Stop the shedding - Turn up the volume!

Is your hair in need of a "health boost"? Is it shedding or starting to look dull? Then try nourishing it from within, with Hair Volume™, the world's leading hair nutrient tablet.

Beauty from within

Hair is essentially composed of dead cells so using topical solutions to nourish it won't do much good. Nourishing your hair starts at the root. Studies have shown that hair follicles benefit from nutrients found in grains, fruits and other plants. Apples, for example, contain the nutrient procyanidin B2, which is a beneficial hair growth-promoting factor.

Just one tablet a day

Hair Volume™ is a best-selling supplement from Sweden that contains millet, biotin, and a special apple extract. Just one tablet a day will provide you with more hair nutrients than most competing brands and will help you strongly nourish your hair from within.

DID YOU KNOW?

The first thing you may notice when taking Hair Volume is that your nails start getting stronger because nails react faster to a new supply of nutrients than hair. After a month or so, your hair will likely stop shedding and start to gain volume.

TESTIMONIAL

"I have taken Hair Volume for two years now and the results are just amazing. My hair seems to have stopped shedding as much and now appears to grow faster and thicker. I did not tell my hairdresser about Hair Volume, so when she cut my hair, she asked me 'Have you done something different? Your hair feels thicker.' I strongly recommend this great product to everyone!"

- Rachel H., Oklahoma

TEST YOURSELF

- ☐ Is your hair looking dull and thin?
- ☐ Do you experience hair shedding?
- ☐ Are your nails brittle?
- ☐ Do you want to nourish your hair naturally?
- ☐ Are you looking for more hair volume and shine?

If you answered YES to these questions, Hair Volume is definitely something you should try.

THINGS YOU DON'T KNOW ABOUT ME

BY Anna Chlumsky

The 38-year-old Veep star lays down her laws for Us

1. I read tarot cards.

2. I studied abroad in Salvador, Brazil.

3. I sang [Bach's] Cantata BWV 78 in German [with the choir] when I was [younger]. My best friend, voice teacher extraordinaire Peter Thoresen, and I still bust out the "Wir Eilen" after a little too much wine.

4. Speaking of wine, I'm certified (just barely) in wine and spirits.

5. I belonged to a Northern Praying Mantis kung fu school in my 20s.

6. I love learning and practicing languages.

7. I played first-chair clarinet in high school.

8. My first concert was Kathleen Battle.

9. My second concert was Lionel Richie, who had Tina Turner opening for him. I fell asleep for Richie. Did I mention I was 4?

10. When I first moved to New York, I went to the Museum of Modern Art and happened upon Christina's World by Andrew Wyeth and burst into tears.

11. I worked at Brookfield Zoo [in Chicago] for a summer. I wanted to be a zoologist.

12. I binge Joseph Campbell lectures on Spotify.

13. My cuticles are usually a wreck (nervous habit). Thank God for manicures.

14. I know all the colors of Joseph's coat by heart — as per Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd Webber.

15. I get very excited when my kids [Penelope, 5, and Clara, 2, with Shaun So] choose an M. Sasek book to read for story time.

16. At a writer/cast dinner, [Veep writer] Roger Drew told me to follow my instincts as a parent. Little did he know I was about to check in to the hospital that evening and give birth to Penny. Best and most timely advice.

17. In college, I'd get creative with my answering machine greetings. You'd hear something like the theme from Hercules: The Legendary Journeys. Then "beeeeeep."

18. When I was little, I'd help make apple tarts for my dad's restaurant.

19. Without fail I'll start bawling whenever Moana sings.

20. I hate it when people spit in public. It really roughs me up. Watching baseball can be a challenge.

21. I keep a gratitude-and-joy journal. I highly recommend this practice for everyone.

22. My first car was a purple Dodge Neon. I put a pink "Road Sister" bumper sticker on it that my friend Tasha and I bought on a road trip to Columbus, Ohio.

23. My confirmation name is Ludmilla (after King Wenceslas' grandmother).

24. She-Ra is a lifelong obsession, and I absolutely approve of the redux.

25. I make my own aromatherapy oils, balms, body butters and soaps. I haven't figured out hand sanitizer yet.
